- Coordinate and implement proactive legislative strategy that builds awareness of OR&R core capabilities with members of Congress and external partners. Craft and maintain legislative briefing materials and responses to Congressional queries. Track relevant legislation and monitor progress of bills relevant to OR&R and federal partners. Provide timely reports to OR&R Chief of Staff on status of relevant legislation.
- Develop and maintain strategic communications tools to enhance information sharing across OR&R divisions as it pertains to external partnerships and engagement, legislative tracking, Congressional briefing materials, and minutes from meetings with Congress and external partners.
- Support OR&R Chief of Staff in program planning and evaluation process, including routine evaluation of OR&R contributions to NOAA Annual Operating Plan milestones, performance measures and accomplishments.
- Support development of annual OR&R Outreach Strategic Plan.
- Implement short and long-term special projects as needs arise.

Qualifications:

Required:

- Bachelor's degree in public policy, environmental science or related field with a minimum of three years' experience in a writing/editing and/or communications capacity
- Proficiency in use of Adobe InDesign and other Web design/editing software
- Self-motivated, creative and energetic with an ability to work well individually and cooperatively with a range of individuals
- Excellent written and oral communications skills
- Excellent organization skills and attention to detail
- Ability to work on several projects simultaneously and to shift priorities as needed

Preferred:

- Master's degree in public policy, environmental science or related field
- Experience working for an organization in a marine science related field
- Proven ability to work as a member of a team or work independently
