

Cornell Postdoctoral Fellowships in Sustainability

Starting January 2017, 2-Year Appointments

The Atkinson Center for a Sustainable Future seeks outstanding, creative, and highly motivated individuals to address pressing world needs through multidisciplinary discovery and scholarship and to implement sustainable solutions in collaboration with external partners.

Postdocs will link Cornell-based research with a non-academic organization, such as an NGO, government agency, foundation, or business to maximize scalability and impact, while gaining experience with collaboration across disciplines and organizational cultures.

Letter of Intent Due: August 19, 2016

Full Application Due: October 6, 2016
