

2013 Young Scientist Symposium on Atmospheric Research

Friday, September 20th

Hosted by:
Colorado State University
American Association for Aerosol Research (AAAR) Student Chapter and
FORT Collins' Atmospheric ScientistS (FORTCAST) Local AMS Chapter

We invite all graduate students and post-docs in the region to present their atmospheric research and attend a one day meeting for young scientists at the CSU Department of Atmospheric Science.

All posters and talks focused on studies of the atmosphere are welcome. Come to learn about ongoing research at institutions in the area, meet, and find collaborators for future projects. This opportunity can also be used to practice giving a talk or poster for a national conference.

The conference will be followed by an informal social happy hour activity. Please submit abstracts and/or register for the event by August 30th, 2013.

Visit our website to register to present or attend:

<http://www.atmos.colostate.edu/aaar/symposium.html>

Please direct any symposium questions to csuaaar@gmail.com

