

TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION

Assistant Professor of Earth Surface Materials & Systems

Fall 2027 • Allendale, Michigan

We seek an adaptable teacher-scholar ready to lead an undergraduate geology curriculum in:

EARTH SURFACE
MATERIALS*GEOMORPHOLOGY*HYDROGEOLOGY

A faculty role built around undergraduate impact

- Build an active research program that directly involves undergraduate students.
- Develop research in the Great Lakes region, including surface water, glacial or coastal processes, watershed hydrology, or groundwater.
- Use innovative modeling, field-based, or applied approaches and build external partnerships or interdisciplinary collaborations.
- Join a collegial, exclusively undergraduate department committed to inclusive teaching and high-impact learning.

POSITION AT A GLANCE

Ph.D. required

Geoscience or a closely related field

9-month appointment

Typical teaching load: 9 credits per semester

Starting salary

Minimum $76,500, commensurate with experience

Benefits from day one

Medical, vision, dental, retirement contributions, wellness resources, and tuition waiver

Questions? Ian Winkelstern, Search Committee Chair • winkelsi@gvsu.eduAPPLICATION REVIEW BEGINS*NOVEMBER 9, 2026*View the full posting and applygvsu.edu/hro/jobs-at-grand-valley-state-university-1194.htm
Search requisition R105055

SCAN TO APPLY